Instead of playing the Hartford High school football team this after-noon, as was thought might be neces-sary, the Academy eleven will play them Saturday morning at 11 o'clock on Trinity field, Hartford, and the Academy squad will have to take the C. OMINICK Fresh Hardening of Prices With Net SPECULATION LISTLESS.

Gains at Closing. New York, Oct. 6.-There was a relapse into listlessness in the tone of the speculation in stocks today and operations were hesitating and without marked initiative. The shurp reaction of the day before resulted in consider-able discouragement to the movement for a rise. It was the current supposition that an organization recently formed to conduct a market movement on an enlarged scale had encountered opposition in the form of free offerings from bankers and from insiders in the properties which acted as an admoniproperties which acted as an admoni-tion that those interests were out of sympathy with the attempt to conduct an extensive speculation at this time. At the same time with the recession in prices there was a falling off in the orderings which weighed on the market yesterday. This was taken to mean that no aggressive movement to depress prices or to make the stock at concessions was in contemplation. The concessions was in contemplation. The consequence was a fresh hardening of prices, with the closing at net gains.

The day's events offered a slight incentive to market action on either side. The New York Americans have bought Catcher Walter Blair back from the Rochester club, also Pitcher Caldwell of McKeesport. Blair will report next season and Caldwell at the end of September.

The reason advanced for Smith going to the bad this year is—Ed Walsh.
Smith is as jealous of Walsh as could be. Smith went to the bad the moment Wash began to win and vice versa. With both big fellows on rival teams, it is sure to be a merry struggle when both clubs hook up.

With the post-season series between the Glants and the Highlanders as-sured base ball fans will have a long wished for chance to compare the rival

Admiral Schlei, the Giants' backstops, will he able to show how the will be able to show how they shape up with Catchers Sweeney and Blair of the Hillmen, provided the rules that of the Hillmen, provided the rules that govern the series allow Blair to participate.

Unprejudiced critics hold the opinion that Daniels is the best man in either outfield. As a hitter, base runner, fielder and thrower he is in a class by himself. Devore of the Giants is a fast man too, and his friends believe he will compare favorably with the Hillmen's star left fielder.

Snodgrass and Cree compare favorably in center field. Murray, always dangerous with the bat, is expected to play right field a whole lot better than Hemphill or Wolter, especially when it becomes necessary to make long throws.

Aside from a pitchers' duel between Mathewson and Ford, which would be worth going miles to see, Managers Chase and McGraw will do much thinking before selecting their slabmen. Whether they will let Matty and Ford hook up remains to be seen. Maybe the managers will purposely avoid a conflict of this sort if only as a bit of strategy. Perhaps Chase may decide that Big Jim Vaughn is the man to pitch against Mathewson, with Ford trying conclusions with Wiltse Some of the players hinted as much and said that the rival managers New York, Oct. 6.—Cotton futures closed steady. Chase thinks his men will make a go; clean sweep of the series, or at least will copture four of the sames. He says the Hillmen have the better pitchers and catchers, can run the bases more rapidly and with better judgment and can show a more effective system of team work.

McGraw as usual doesn't say much McGraw as usual, doesn't say much. But it is known that if he didn't believe the Giants could win he would have persuaded President Brush to refuse permission for the series.
